The incident occurred while U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller was on the bench but while the jury was out of the room. The gunman came through the rear door of the small walnut-paneled courtroom, and walked down the aisle to a swinging gate separating spectators from lawyers and principals in the trial.

man and knocked him to the floor. Several marshals piled on top of the assailant and several spectators ran through the swinging gate and started kicking the man.

The spectators withdrew at Hoffa's insistence.

U.S. Marshal Elmer Dispayne led the man, blood streaming from his head and face, from the courtroom and would not permit newsmen to question him.

Judge Miller, who watched the drama unfold, ordered a recess and told the marshals that he wanted a full and complete report of the incident.

There were approximately 50 or 60 spectators in the courtroom at the time. They were listening to attorneys argue whether certain testimony in the $1 million conspiracy trial should be continued.

Charged With Murder

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Roy

Lee Bevels, 61, a Negro of El Dorado, was charged with first degree murder Tuesday in connection with the fatal shooting of three other Negroes Monday night.

Rosa Lee Bevels, 64, and Alex Gibson, 72, both of the El Dorado area, were dead on arrival at a hospital following the shooting.

Lewellan Hogan, 5, died on the way to a Shreveport, La., hospital where he was to have undergone brain surgery for a head wound.

Otis Henley of the Arkansas State Police said Bevels came to the Union County Sheriff's office after the shooting and gave himself up.

The youngest was Gibson's grandson. Gibson's daughter and Mrs. Bevels' son had been married, Henley said.

Henley said Ulysses Meeks, 72, a bystander, was grazed by a bullet as he ran from the scene.

It happened at a New York art gallery. A tall, rugged Texan and his pretty wife dropped in and within a half hour bought up all the Van Goghs, Picassos, El Greco, Gauguins, Monets, etc., in the establishment.

"There, honey," beamed the husband, "That takes care of the Christmas cards. Now let's get started on our shopping."

A young engineer was proudly showing the governor his first big project, a three million dollar dam. The governor stared in amazement and exclaimed, "Heavens, the water — it's supposed to be on the other side."

At a town meeting two candidates for county office were bawling each other in a violent debate over their respective merits. In the midst of their decidedly immodest oratory, a farmer got up and walked out.

Immediately one of the political workers ran up to him. "Decided on which candidate?" he was asked.

"No," said the farmer, shaking his head. "I'm just thankful."

"What for?"

"When I listen to them two," he explained. "I'm thankful only one of 'em can ever get elected."

DOROTHY DIX

She Can't Make Her Eyes Behave!

By HELEN WRODEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Though married five years, the mother of two youngsters and with another on the way, I'm still a susceptible gal. A flirt is the old-fashioned term for me. I just can't make my eyes nor my heart behave.

Unbeknownst to my husbands, friends or the object of my teen-ideal, I get all in a dither, dream of my Prince Charming and, in my mind's eye, see us winging it to the South Seas or some other tropical Paradise.

Why, when I have a perfectly good husband and home, do I do this? He's an angel — even encourages me to have a good time with other fellows at parties. I do — and only wish I could with him. For some reason that seems to be impossible. Again, why, when I love him?

He reads your column. Please print this and your answer. It may help us both. —C. M. A.

Dear C.: Yours is a wistful letter. Accept the fact that dream-land and every-day life don't jibe. Be grateful for your sincere, down-to-earth husband and comfortable home but don't try to suppress your imagination. It is the stuff out of which romantic novels are spun. Used properly it can be a great blessing.

Without imagination there would be no musicians, writers, painters or empire builders. Continue to dream. Let your fancy be an escape valve. Maybe you're potentially a writer. Have you ever tried your hand at fiction? Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, And So You Want to Write."

Dear Helen: I'm a 16-year-old girl suffering because of a 17-year old sister who was very close to me until he" came along. He" is the man she is to marry in two years, comes often to the house and literally throws me around like a rubber ball. I try to fight back but he is too big and — I'm so helpless. My sister won't stop him even though he's tearing us apart and me to little bits. What can I do? —Mary

Dear Mary: Subconsciously you may be making a play for him. Don't be so helpless. If you really love your sister steer clear of entangling alliances. Recognize her right to lead her own life, irrespective of you. Be independent enough to form your own friendships.

Dear Helen: My fiance and I are in a rut. We go out with the same couple every night but even in the week and sometimes even those two nights. It's not that I don't like the other couple but it gets doggone monotonous. Doubly and son, Tommy of Marshall, Texas, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collier and family

Visitors over the weekend in the home of Mrs. Joe Bailey were Mr. and Mrs. Claud Bailey of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Bailey of Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Bailey of Rosston, Joe Donal Bailey and Pat of Hope, and William A. Bailey and Tom Denton of Dallas.

Dear Robbie: Since you don't want to go, say so. Your fiance will respect you for speaking up. Show some spunk. Take the play away from the others by inviting them all to your home for a change. Next night have another engagement Look up other friends

If your man kicks, let him. If you continue to knuckle under just because you're afraid of losing him, you'll surely do just that. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, A Happy Marriage."

Dear Helen: Our 15-year-old daughter is dating a boy of 27. They are very congenial but nice though he is, I just don't like the idea. Some say why worry; others think I have cause to fret.

They date alone at least once a week. Saturday and Sunday he is here. A higher education is no longer her goal. She won't listen to me and refuses to date boys her own age. How do you suppose all this will wind up? What can I tell her? —Upset Mother

Dear Upset: Admittedly your daughter is very young to be dating, much less solo-dating. But before taking action, look into the man's background. What sort of family does he come from? Has he a good job? Is he reliable? If all the answers to these questions are favorable, tell him that while you have high regard for his character, you would rather he and your daughter dated in groups than alone until she is 18.

If he truly loves her, being older, he will help you protect her from herself. If he and she are really sincere in their feelings for one another, this problem could terminate happily provided it is properly handled. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Be Tactful."

Argentine Minister Quits Post

By ISAAC A. LEVI

BUENOS AIRES, Argentine (AP)—Economic Minister Alvaro Alsogaray gave in to week-long pressure Tuesday night and tendered his resignation, charging that divisions in the government balked his campaign to hold the line against inflation.

The threatened departure from the government of the controversial 49-year-old economist—along with his entire economic team of 20 senior officials—promised yet another political crisis. Unconfirmed reports said Rea-

Adm. Carlos A. Kolungia also had resigned as Navy secretary.

President Jose Maria Guido neither accepted nor rejected the mass resignations immediately. He told Alsogaray he would start a round of consultations—beginning with the military leaders of the government—today.

The war secretary, Lt. Gen. Benjamin Ratenbach, apparently precipitated Alsogaray's decision to quit by stating at a news conference that the economic minister's policies were not adequate to pull Argentina out of its slump. Alsogaray said the head of the army told him on Monday "other Cabinet ministers are feeling the same way." Alsogaray's austerity policy was always opposed by large business, labor and armed forces groups, but he and his team also have strong connections with certain business, political and military factions.

Opposition mounted last week when Alsogaray, in an effort to balance the budget, boosted the price of gasoline 43 per cent and that of kerosene, widely used for cooking, by 66 per cent. The increases triggered another spiral in essential consumer goods prices.

Business Set for Another Tax Battle

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Business and the administration are drawing up their lines today for another round in the perennial battle over taxes. At conferences here and in Washington the two sides are outlining their views. The debate is as much over the kind of taxes as over the high rates.

The final stands may be made clear when the President addresses a group of businessmen here Dec. 14 and perhaps reveals the forms his proposals to the new Congress will take.

Sophomore So Far a Cage Sensation

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

An 18-year-old sophomore sought by over 60 colleges who is shaking the staid Ivy League, and a 67-year-old coach who has been overworking a large red towel for some 40 years. That's the unlikely combination sharing today's college basketball spotlight.

The sophomore sensation is young Bill Bradley, a 6-foot-5 product of Crystal City, Mo., who turned his back on his own backyard and went up at Princeton. He scored 28 points in his first game and came back with 27 Tuesday night in the Tigers' 68-53 victory over Villanova.

The old man is Western Kentucky Coach Ed Diddle, who has been at the Ohio Valley Conference school for 41 years. He displayed all his towel-flapping tricks as the Hilltoppers wrote his 750th triumph into the record books by blasting Texas Wesleyan 101-66.

Bucking for a place in the spotlight were two of the nation's top pre-season choices—second-ranked Duke, which rolled over South Carolina 95-63 in an Atlantic Coast Conference clash, and sixth-ranked Mississippi State, 90-55 conqueror of Arkansas A&M in its season debut.

In two Southern Conference games on a schedule heavy with interconference and inter-conference contests, Virginia Tech downed Richmond 76-68 for its 37th consecutive home court victory and defending league champion West Virginia opened conference play with a 100-74 triumph over VMI.

Elsewhere, Notre Dame beat Michigan State 92-85 after a basket by soph Jay Miller broke a tie. Laverne Tart led Bradley on a 90-57 waltz past North Dakota. Oklahoma set a school scoring record in a 96-83 decision over SMU. Vanderbilt outlasted Rice 80-68 and Oregon edged Washington 59-57 on a pair of foul shots by Elliott Gleason with 30 seconds left.

Princeton got off to a fast start against Villanova, Bradley connecting for 17 points in the first half, as the Ivy Leaguers built a 33-25 halftime edge and were never headed. Bradley wound up with 10 for 15 from the floor, made all seven foul shots and was credited with eight assists.

No. 76 was easy for Diddle. Junior Darrell Carrier hit on all seven of his shots from the floor in the first half and paced the Hilltoppers to a 59-35 halftime bulge over the Texans. Carrier, who scored 17 points in the first half, finished with 24.

Duke's Blue Devils shot at a 67 per cent clip against the Gamecocks and had little difficulty as Art Heyman scored 28 points and Denny Ferguson and Fred Schmidt added 14 each. South Carolina's one-eyed backcourt ace Scotty Ward, had 17 points.

Nebraska, Miami in Gotham Bowl

GOTHAM BOWL SPORTS
NEW YORK (AP)—Rugged Nebraska will oppose Miami of Florida in the second Gotham Bowl football game Oct. 15 resuming the post-season contest with time running short.

The match was completed Tuesday night when the Board of Regents and the Big Eight Conference approved acceptance of the bid voted by the Nebraska players.

Bowl officials were pleased by the acquisition of both the Miami Hurricanes, 7-3, and the Cornhuskers, 8-2, who are among the nation's top ten teams in passing and rushing, respectively.

Less than 15,000 fans watched Baylor defeat previously unbeaten Utah State in the first Gotham Bowl game last year. The event had been scheduled to get off the ground in 1960 but failed to make a victory over Villanova.

Bobcats Drop Game, Lady Cats Win One

By Carter Hardage

Tuesday night was a good night for teams on their home courts as the Lady Cats and B boys overcame their Texarkana visitors 34-33 and 47-30—but the Junior boys and the Bobcats both came out on the short end of a close score at Arkadelphia, 34-33 and 49-44, respectively, in a pair of thrilling games.

The senior boys journeyed to Arkadelphia to battle a tough Badger team. The Bobcats held a narrow lead throughout most of the first half and the score was 25-23, Hope, when the half-time buzzer sounded. However, a fired-up Badger team came back out of the dressing room and made it Arkadelphia 29, Hope 34 at the third quarter's end. The Cats made a desperate try, but time ran out and the Badgers took a hard-fought game 49-44.

High scorer for Hope was Dan Jones with 20 points. Then came Porterfield, 11; Murphy, 7; Russell, 3; McLarty, 2; and Purdie, 1. Echols was Arkadelphia's high scorer with 27 points.

The Bobkittens deserve a lot of credit for their team effort against the Arkadelphia Beavers. Trailing the entire length of the game, they came very near to going ahead in the final seconds, but a great defensive effort saved the Beavers as the Bobkittens lost 34-33.

Scoring for Hope were: Ingram 15; Ramsey 13; Watkins 3; and Paris and Aslin with 1 each. Williams scored 17 for the Beavers.

In the Lady Cats' close 34-33 triumph over Texarkana at Jones Field House Hope's high scorer was Shirley Smith with 13 points. Janice Lloyd followed with 10, and then Phyllis Martin with 6 and Annette Hatfield with 5. Nera McDunkins was Texarkana's leading scorer with 12.

Hope's B team soundly whipped Texarkana 47-30. Burnett was high with 19 points, Honeycutt, Allen and Henley each had 4 points. Jordan had 3, while McNatt and Beard had two each, and Powell and Thrash with 1 apiece. Gross was high for Texarkana with 15 points.

Little All American Team Named

NEW YORK (AP) — Passing maestro George Bork, mammoth tackle Junious Buchanan, end Drew Roberts and back Joe Iacone head the 14 small college standouts named today to The Associated Press' 1962 Little All-American football team.

Bork, the Northern Illinois quarterback who was the No. 1 passer among the collegians parading their talents in smaller stadiums around the country, is the only junior on the first team. All others are seniors, and many may be playing in professional ranks next fall.

Buchanan, a 6-foot-6, 272-pound lineman who does double duty as a sprinter for Grambling, was the No. 1 selection in the American Football League draft held last weekend. He immediately signed with the Dallas Texans.

Roberts of Humboldt State in California and Iacone of West Chester, Pa., are the only repeaters from the 1961 Little All-American team.

Joining Bork and Iacone in the first team backfield are Richard Kemp of Lenoir Rhyne, a barrel-rusher on a team that has won 17 in a row, and Robert (China Doll) Parnore, fleet track star for Florida A&M who also has established his reputation as a top-flight gridiron hero.

Rounding out the first team line are end Willie Richardson of Jackson, Miss. State; tackle Dick Peter of Whittier; guards Ralph Soffredine of Central Michigan and Don Hunt of Wittenberg, and center Douglas Harvey of Texas A&I, who was tapped for the honor over an unusually large group of outstanding centers.

The 1-man Little All-American aggregation rates as possibly stronger than any other team selected since 1934, when The Associated Press pioneered the recognition of the small college stars.

Bork, the tallest member of the backfield at 6 feet, the lightest at 160 pounds and the youngest at 20, also is the one who has grabbed the major share of headlines with his passing proficiency. He led the small colleges in total offense with 2,398 yards in nine games.

In the air, Bork completed 232 passes out of 356 attempted for a remarkable .652 completion percentage out of 356 attempted for a almost 1½ miles.

Season Open on Panthers in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The season is permanently open on panthers and mountain lions in Arkansas but somehow no one ever kills one of the elusive beasts. Not recently, anyhow.

"Sign" such as a track is reported periodically and occasionally someone actually sees a "big cat" or something that look much like one.

The most recent panther story comes from Arkadelphia, where Dr. Ralph Phelps, president of Ouachita Baptist College, reported he saw the track of something which might have been a panther. Other residents of Clark County claimed to have seen panthers or mountain lions.

Last year, a mountain lion scare shook the residents of Johnson County but the cat remains at large to this day despite an intensive search. Several people reported seeking a strange animal and trained dogs were thrown into the hunt. But a cat was never found.

lion reports, because proof is lacking in most cases. However, they admit that a few mountain lions might roam in the more remote areas of Arkansas.

"We can't deny the possibility of mountain lions in the state," said Gus Albright, commission news editor. "But there haven't been any killed, that I know of, in the past 5 years or so."

"I do know that there are people who strongly believe there are lions. I visited a ranger in the Ouachita National Forest recently who told me he was convinced there was a lion in the area."

Albright pointed out it is easy to be mistaken. A glimpse of any sizeable animal might confuse a person. And a bobcat might make a track large enough to fool an inexperienced woodsman.

"Once when I was hunting in the White River bottoms, I saw an extremely large bobcat," Albright said. "A squirrel hunter had killed it. When I came by, he had the animal hanging up. From its head to the end of its tail, it was as long as a man. It was twice as big as any other bobcat I ever saw."

Even so, this would probably not match the size of a mature mountain lion. An average bobcat probably would weigh from 15-25 pounds whereas a mountain lion might range from 75-125 pounds, Albright said.

Mountain lions were once plentiful in Arkansas, but with the arrival of man and the subsequent shrinkage of wilderness area, the number of lions diminished rapidly. Many sportsmen, however, still remain who had personal experience with the cats in earlier days.

Since mountain lions prefer remote areas, and prowls mostly at night, they are seldom seen now even in areas where they are known to exist.
